Book suggestion for October

We are just getting started in our Sunday morning study for the fall months in the book of 1 Peter.

This letter has been described as a “traveler’s guide for Christian pilgrims.” Written to believers that were scattered far from home, Peter reminds them that they are temporarily in the place they find themselves, strangers looking forward to a true homeland. During this time they were suffering—in fact, that key word “suffering” is used 16 times. Dr. Robert Gromacki says that Peter writes “to explain the relationship of trials to God’s purposes.”

This is a book that teaches them (and us) how to live, even when things are hard. Peter writes to give instruction as well as hope. This is what we need most in these days—an understanding on how to live and a hope that strengthens us and others!

As we seek to become better followers of Jesus, this could not be any more timely or important. I am praying that the combined study of 1 Peter on Sundays, along with the weekly devotionals highlighted by the book, “Not A Fan,” will aid us greatly in continually becoming the people that God desires us to be.

Join in with us—Sundays at 9:45am and then throughout the week with the video that comes out each Sunday night at 6:00pm (on the church YouTube channel). Let’s grow together!

Chris and Barb Deemer—Campus Ambassadors, SUNY Oneonta

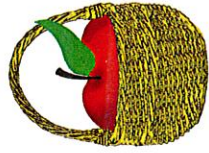

This month's newsletter from Chris and Barb Deemer brings encouraging news of a positive start for Campus Ambassadors at SUNY Oneonta. Specifically, they sent to us a YouTube video link from a student who gave her testimony at the kickoff meeting of CA this semester. If you have the ability, please type the following link into your computer to view the video, <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LdoVLkWBd4&authuser=0>. Another student showed from the Bible how we can all become resilient disciples. That's his topic for the term. The student President is the captain of the Ultimate Frisbee Club as well! Guys from his team came to fellowship. It was the largest meeting in over a year. Eight new regulars and eight new visitors attended. Guys galore! Pray that they keep coming to the CA meetings!

Amazing Grace! There is more as well. See the newsletter which is posted on the Fellowship Hall bulletin board to see all the goodness happening at Campus Ambassadors, SUNY Oneonta. Continue to be in prayer for this fruitful ministry.
